The News-the Herald Solemn Meeting of the Cabinet—the Organ—the Difficulty—Mr. Buchan. an-Mr. Clarke-Mr. Brown-Mr. Ellsworth-Colonel Benton and Frank Thomas-Gen. Daw-

The sport grows better and better. We shall have fun in earnest at this progress, by and by. From early breakfast time (which is eight o'clock in Washington) till midnight, the incessant, unvaried, and unfailing salutation is, "what's the news ?" and the answer not unfrequently is, "have you seen the Herald." "The Herald has it all," or some equivalent reply. Your correspondents here appear to have a knowledge of the ropes, and as an occasional interloper, we cheerfully come up to their assistance.

Called at the White House this morning. Cabi-

up to their assistance.

Called at the White House this morning. Cabinet Council. Buchanan grave as a funeral sermon—Cave Johnson really melancholy—Walker mysterious, very mysterious—Marcy with a hole in his trowsers. You would have thought the council wasicalled upon a dead man; every thing and every man, even Martin Rannahan, the door-keeper, appeared so ominous, so gloomy and sad. But the convocation was upon the choice of the "Organ," and we shall know, this evening, what has been done. Dr Escellman, of Nashville, having returned, something may have been concluded upon today. At the laive executive session of the Senate, in order to test whether the Globe as the "Organ" would command the suffrage of the party in the two Houses, a vote was had in caucus, and the result was 13 to 11 against the Globe by the democrats of the Senate. Here was the first decisive movement against the Globe men. In briet, the Globe under us Gld Board of Control will neither answer the aspirants of the party, nor the aspirations of the administration. And why? Because the Globe, rules every thing except Benton, who rules the Globe, and has ruled it, and is now to be overfuled.

Mr. Buchanan leaves town for a day or two to hant up the materials of a family at Lancaster, Pa. He returns to occupy a large house lately occupied by General Jessup, from which it would appear that he stands fast till the next Congress if possible, which in the present conflicting state of affairs, is absolutely impossible. But we shall see. We hope he may prove superior to the crisis, and prove himself of the true Jacksonian steel.

Some of the Cabinet are displeased with the ejection of Matthew St. Clair Clarke from the General Post Office. Colonel Benton, too, we are apprised thinks the removal unadvisedly made.—We concur with Cave Johnson that it was a judicious removal, for if Mr. Clarke has not he fault of the government. He has had a long draft at the Federal punch-bowl, and ought to be satisfied.

Elisworth, it appears, is among the hold overs. We e

*There are, in all, about 900 persons in the government employ. Of these the State or Kingdom from whence many of the office holders came is not designated. Supposing each of the 225 Congressional Districts to obtain our office-holders, in an equal division of the "spoils," each District would get $5,200 a year, or $1,300 to each office holder. The District of Columbia is considered as a Congressional District.

Washington, Friday Evening, March 28, 1845. The Trouble About the " Organ"-Mr. Ritchie Declines-Anxiety to Dispense with Blair-Uncer-tainty as to the Result-A New and Excellent Stroke of Policy Regarding Territorial Appoint ments - Postmasters at Richmond, at Providence &c. & c.

There is really an increase of the excitementthe presentiment seems to be growing stronger of great developments soon. Mr. Ritchie, as we expected, declines the editor's chair of the organ. He prefers old Virginia to the dubious chances of being elected printer to the House of Representatives. The desire to put down Blair seems to be gathering strength. The council of the Cabinet yestering strength. The council of the Cabinet yestering strength. The council of the Cabinet yestering strength. The council of the Progress to a decision we know nothing. Mr. Rives of the "Globe," having gone to New York, it is supposed that J L O'Sullivan is to be looked up, or the stock of that bank to be sold. It is the dread of the power and wealth of the "Globe" men which make their supercedeas a matter of existence delicacy. But we think Blair & Rives better democrats than to turn tail to the administration in any emergency. Blair is vindictive, malignant, and unrelenting as a political enemy; but he is safe as a faithful advocate. We think he may be superceded, if expedient, without fear of the bitterness and venom of retaliation. Certainly, there is a great desire to have an organ which shall be under the courtol, and not the controlling power of the administration, as it is feared the Globe under Mr. Blair would be. It is the desire of the administration that the throne shall be greater than this power behind the throne. Mr. Slamm, who has returned to town, thinks that the safety of the administration, and the union of the party demand a new organ here, and new hands at the bellows. But the word of Old Hickory is potential, and if Blair desires to remain as the head of the organ, cabinets may be dissolved, and there may be the deuce to pay, but Blair will stand fast and laugh all opposition at defiance. The chances are, notwithstanding that he will be conciliated or heave been had to-day. Mr. Buchanan is dead set against the Globe.

A new and excellent policy has been laid down respecting territorial appointments. There are to be no important event of lower which such the presentiment seems to be growing stronger of great developments soon. Mr. Ritchie, as we ex-

are to operate

It is said that Mr. Ritchie was desirous of having It is said that Mr. Ritchie was desirous of having Peyton, (a relative, we understand,) retained in the Post Office at Richmond, as were also Mr. Rosque and Mr. Stevenson, and that they privately interfered for his preservation. But when Peyton was thrown overboard, and Bigger, an excellent man, and a democrat, put in his place, Mr. Ritchie publicly acknowledged it as a most excellent change. A knowing old chap, is Father Ritchie, and the ? change. A knowing out chap, at it he?
at it he?
W. B. Sales, of the suffrage party, has been appointed Post-master of Providence, R. I. Before twelve months shall have elapsed Thomas W. Dorr, if he lives, will receive an Executive appointment of sufficient consequence to atone for the degradation attempted to be cast upon him by his late incarceration. Mark it.

We see that Mr. Bagby continues in the city, but whether he is prosecuting claims against the government, or applications of sfine-seekers, or revising his Texas speech, cannot say. Mr. Bagby has thrown down the gauntlet, in a most uncharitable attack on the letter-writers, and Texas is not a circumstance to the trouble that is in store for him, unless he shows some disposition to a compromise.

Removals - Madisonian -- Cabinet -- Globe -- Organ Intelligencer and Constitution and New Postage Law.

Amongst the number of reported removals which I previously noticed, was that of Peter Hagner, third auditor in the Treasury Department. I learn that this gentleman has not yet been dismissed, but most certainly will be. The cry of proscrip-tion will doubtless be raised in reference to this and other removals, with how much justice may be conceived when I inform you that of all the clerks which this individual has under him, (and they are numerous) he had but two who were not whigs, and that a short time since he contrived to have one of those removed, and supplied his place with a whig. In fact he has proved himself most extremely intolerant, and yet his removal will be exclaimed against as for opinion's sake, proscription and so forth.

William Davidge, a clerk in the Pension Office, at $1400 per annum, has also been removed. This is one of the Websterian appointments. He was formerly editor, or assistant editor of the Madisonian during Webster's reign, and every now and then would write and publish an article in favor of protection, American labor, &c. [This did not suit at all, and Mr. Tyler was given to understand that such vegaries as that could not be put up with in the Madisonian, for it was aitogether too much of John Jonesism and would not do. Orders were accordingly given that Mr. Davidge should not write anyl more for the Madisonian, and then Mr. Webster provided him with the $1400 situation above mentioned, from which he has been just ousted.

The Madisonian, of yesterday, appears to be rather doiorously savage. It sees one Tyler office-holder falling after another, and not knowing where the axe will fall next, it-cries out that it was not so nominated in the bond, that it was not so nominated in the bond, that it was not on such terms at all that John Jones consented to support Mr. Polk, and of course he considers it very ungrateful; and himself, Mr. Tyler and the Tylerites in general, very ill-used individuals. I expect that this evening John will come out with an article which will, perhaps, frighten the administration into complyion fits. John finds the times different now to what they used to was. He don't constitute the Kitchen Cabinet now, and, consequently, office seekers don't require his aid and influence to obtain their wishes. Shocking, very! this state of things to John!

The Cabinet has to-day had a meeting, and were a very long time in session. Their doings have not vet transpired, but it is supposed that they have been busily engaged constructing, or attempting to construct, an organ. All sorts of rumors are in circulation, so that it is very deficial t scholar, but also a gentlemen, and withal a clever fellow, and who would make, I doubt not, a good Charge, has not heard of this prometion, which he is said to have received, and says he does not bereliow, and who would make, I doubt not, a good Charge, has not heard of this prometion, which he is said to have received, and says he does not believe the rumor to be true.

Among the offices to be disposed of in this district, is the Wardenship of the Penitentiary, quite a snug little affair. It is the subject of a spirited contest for the appointment. For it there are three applicants more prominent than the balance,—Mr. Towles, Mr. Clark, and Mr. E. W. Smailwood—The first is the nominee of some club in this district, which considers itself entitled to the right of dividing out the offices in the district, and that Captain Polk has only to appoint their nominees. The second is the nominnee of the Restorationists, who think every one who was turned out to make way for a whig ought to be reinstated without any regard to the number of years they have fed on the public purse. The third is the present efficient assistant postmaster, of the House of Representatives, and bidefair to carry off the prize.—He was cormerly a resident of Mississippi, is of the "young democracy," and recommended by the delegations from Mississippi, Louisiana, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, and Missouri, and has besides Mr. Walker, the Secretary of the Treasury, and Mr Cave Johnson, postmaster general, to push him with all the influence Mr. J. F. H. Claiborne, the New Orleans editor, can command.—This is a pretty strong array of friends and recommendations, and the young democracy say they want to see whether the citizens of the district, who already, according to a statement published in the Globe, have 99 office-holders in the district, who already, according to a statement, which says to the effect that if, under the new rates of postage, any portion of the expense of the P. O. Department should come upon the treasury, it would be equivalent to laying a heavier tax upon sugar, manufactures, &c. to pay the postage of the letter writers. This is an unqualified misstatement, though neither of the papers mentioned may have inten year, that it will be more than perhaps half a multion, or a little more.
